ESSEY RIOT SCENE

Washington, D. C. March 31.—An Easter cold wave swept the entire eastern section of the country, the Weather Bureau reported. Unusually low temperatures for this season of the year were reported from many cities of the country and the Weather Bureau predicted it would continue cold throughout Easter Sunday. Snow was reported in many sections and frost in the southern states of Virginia and North and South Carolina.

St. John's, Newfoundland, March 31.—At least three persons lost their lives in a blizzard that has been sweeping this island for the past three days. It is believed many more deaths will be reported when outlying districts are heard from.

Three men were caught by the storm when chopping wood away from the homes and could not make their way through it. Their bodies were found at Three Harbors, sixty miles east of here.

No trains are running and no mail vessels have reached the island for several days.

Berlin, March 30.—Seven Germans were killed and twenty wounded when French troops at the Krupp Works near Essen turned machine guns on the workers, according to reports. The French were attempting to confiscate automobiles at the works and the workers resisted. The troops opened fire, raking ranks of the workers with machine gun bullets.

Lancaster, March 31.—Two are dead today as a result of a grade crossing collision eight miles north of here last night when an automobile bearing four Penn State students home for Easter vacation crashed into a passenger train.

Harry Erb, of Lititz, driver of the car was killed almost instantly and Elizabeth Reinhardt of Sunbury, died several hours later in a local hospital.

Charles Kearley Mitchell, Philadelphia millionaire clubman is to be mentioned again concerning his relations with the slain artist's model. Guimares, who was being defended by Miss King is to be pres-

BIG SPLASH IN POLITICAL WATERS
WHEN FIRST JUDICIAL CANDIDATE
ANNOUNCES HE WILL MAKE A FIGHT

No Less Than One Hundred
County Citizens Are Getting
Ready to Contest For the
Principal Offices Soon.

THE DOPE AS WE GET IT

The candidates are now upon the wing. The campaign of 1923 which has been lingering like winter in the lap of Spring was cracked fairly wide open by the announcement this week of Hazard A. Murray, Esq., that he was a full fledged, bona fide, blown in the bottle, Simon-pure candidate for judicial honors in the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania which embraces or is made up of Clearfield county, and is now busily at work soliciting the suffrage of the proletariat, men in blouses, horny-handed sons of toil, business and professional men and women voters of the county.

Judgeship campaigns are—well so different from the average political campaign, possibly because they occur but once in ten years, that they are always looked forward to by the people of the county generally with more or less interest, while the "Captains of politics" in the different precincts just doze on them. They are usually chock full of action and sensation and the present one bids fair to easily equal any that has gone before.

There are said to be no less than eleven judicial bees buzzing in as many legal heads, but thus far the quiet tip to personal friends by Murray that he has decided to "give 'er a whirl" is the first concrete evidence that anyone of the ten had been stung into action. But this is just the start and political bees, when they open up in one spot, generally sting like the very old dickens himself, or until every last possessor of such bee simply has to horn in to the fray to save his peace of mind and satisfy his personal pride and ambitions.

As was to be expected in a county like ours, where there are more Republicans than Democrats, a manly, or six of these "bees" are of that "denominational" while five are of Democratic leanings or persuasion. That being so, for the purpose of this announcement, the Republicans should and will come first.

Murray Starts It
As we said the trouble was started by H. A. Murray tossing his hat into the ring. The other five in proper alphabetical order are District Attorney John C. Arnold, who would go higher in the service of the people. Harry Boulton, Esq., is said to be seriously considering a hop into the pond after the judicial toga while A. Roy Chase, Esq., believes he could satisfactorily administer the laws in Clearfield county and will have to be reckoned with. W. C. Miller, Esq., who led the Republican candidates ten years ago, is also said to be about ready to toe the scratch. County Solicitor A. H. Woodward is also trimming his sails in the direction of the judgeship. Every one of the prospective candidates possesses elements of considerable personal strength and if the entire galaxy line up for the starter's flag the campaign of 1923 will sure prove to be a hectic session.

Democrats Lethargic
There is nothing stirring thus far on the Democratic side of the fence, each of the five prospective candidates conforming to Democratic principles by adopting a policy of "watchful waiting." The chief buzz on this is the probable action or attitude of

CHILDREN TO SING
EASTER MUSIC ON
COURTHOUSE STEPS

Clearfield Will Be Given
New Treat Tomorrow
Morning Promptly at 9 o'clock On Glad Day.

ALL ARE INVITED

Clearfield people will be treated to an innovation Easter Sunday morning when the pupils of the various schools will gather at the court house corner and sing several Easter carols.

Miss Leighton, of Community Service and Mrs. Hopkins, musical director in the public schools, will have charge of the singing and have been drilling the children in their parts for some time.

In arranging the singers Sunday morning so that the school groups may find their places quickly, four large signs are ready and as the members of the various schools gather, they should go directly to their own group. The Junior High will occupy the upper court house steps, Market street school directly below them East End to the left and West Side to the right. All should be in place a minute before nine so the singing can begin on the dot, as some Sunday schools open at 9:15.

Following are the songs to be sung and those who expect to participate should cut this copy out of the paper and bring with them:—

CHRIST AROSE
Low in the grave he lay, Jesus, my Savior!
Waiting the coming day, Jesus, my Lord!

Chorus—
Up from the grave he arose,
With a mighty triumph o'er his foes;
He arose a victor from the dark domain,
And he lives forever with his saints to reign.

He arose! He arose! Hallelujah!
Christ arose!

Vainly they watched his bed,
Jesus, my Savior!
Vainly they sealed the dead,
Jesus, my Lord!

Chorus—
Death cannot keep his prey,
Jesus, my Savior!
He tore the bars away,
Jesus, my Lord!

Chorus—

CHRIST THE LORD IS RISEN AGAIN

Christ the Lord is risen again, Alleluiah!
Christ hath broken every chain, Alleluiah!
Hark, angelic voices cry, Alleluiah!
Singing ever more on high, Alleluiah!

He who bore all pain and loss, Alleluiah!
Comfortless upon the cross, Alleluiah!
Lives in glory now on high, Alleluiah!
Pleads for us and hears our cry, Alleluiah!

He who slumbered in the grave, Alleluiah!
Is exalted now to save, Alleluiah!

Senator From Kansas

NOT EXPERIMENT

Washington, March 30.—Sharp opposition to the New York Legislature's plea that the Volstead act be modified to permit the use of beer and light wine as beverages was expressed yesterday by Senator Capper, of Kansas.

He wrote to Governor Smith he would do everything he could to defeat such a proposal.

Representing a state which has been dry for more than forty years, Senator Capper declared prohibition did not of itself promote crime, but, on the other hand, benefited the citizenship of the country.

He told Governor Smith little help for a change in the law could be expected from members of Congress representing states which had long been made dry through their own Constitutions before the federal law was enacted.

The letter of Senator Capper closely follows one to Governor Smith from Senator-elect Fess, of Ohio. He also opposed any change in the law. The Kansas Senator wrote:

"It is not prohibition which increases crime, but the liquor dealers and those who patronize them. In the light of this fact any proposal which tends to increase or enlarge the privileges of the liquor dealers, instead of decreasing the problem of lawlessness will aggravate it."

"We have had prohibition in Kansas for more than forty years. To Kansas citizens prohibition is not an experiment; it is a tried and established institution. Our people have had an opportunity to observe the operation of prohibition closely and I am entirely conservative in saying that fully ninety-five per cent of them consider the prohibitory law one of the greatest blessings ever bestowed upon the state by legislation."

Indianapolis, Ind., March 31.—All but seven of the sixty-two residents of Gary, Indiana, on trial for alleged conspiracy to violate prohibition laws, were found guilty in the United States district court here today. The decision was reached after deliberating throughout the night.

The verdict marks a victory for the government in the greatest liquor fraud conspiracy case ever brought to trial since enactment of the prohibition amendment.

Sensational evidence was introduced in the trial in an effort to "shake down" alleged violations of the liquor laws by judges and high officials, including even the mayor of the city.

Now through Christendom it rings,
Alleluiah!
That the Lamb is king of kings, Alleluiah!

Now he bids us tell abroad, Alleluiah!
How the lost may be restored, Alleluiah!

How the penitent, forgiven, Alleluiah!
How we, too, may enter Heaven, Alleluiah!

SIXTY-FIVE MILLION Americans, professing membership in the churches or Sunday schools of the nation, will go to church services tomorrow—Easter Sunday.

This leaves forty-five millions unaccounted for.

Of these forty-five millions—just a little less than half the population of the country—comparatively few are agnostics or atheists. Most of them are people who through carelessness, or indifference, or diversion, have neglected the religious side of their nature.

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Christ from the sepulchre. It comes in the spring, when everywhere about us the spirit of resurrection is symbolized by nature. It should suggest to every one of us that this is the time for the resurrection of our spiritual natures.

The Christian church is the open door to realization of resurrection. It stands waiting to develop us spiritually. This would be a far better world to live in if all of us were attending church regularly.

Go to church on Easter. You'll feel a lot better if you do. Your soul needs food, too, you must know. Satisfy your spiritual hunger. Go to church on Easter.

By Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick
Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, New York
Go to church on Easter!

That is not the whole of Christianity—not by a long sea-mile! Being a Christian extends through seven days every week, twelve months a year, and it affects a man's whole life, from his secret thoughts to his business methods and his citizenship.

Because the finest elements in our American life came from the influence of Jesus Christ, and Easter is the festival of his victory. Because civilization's deepest need is the triumph of real Christianity and Easter is Christianity's rallying-day.

Because this is one of the most spiritually restless generations in human history, and the message of Easter—a victorious spiritual life which can conquer trouble, sin and death—is the message that modern men and women need.

Because you yourself have the old human needs for faith in God, inward power to carry on, and hope of life eternal, and Easter should have a personal message for you.

Go to church on Easter!

By Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs
Bishop of Catholic Diocese of Cleveland
"Christ is risen from the dead. Alleluiah!"

The Christian world rejoices. It steps out of Lenten season of penance and self-denial into new spiritual life of supernatural grace and joy.

Is YOUR soul attuned to the spirit of Easter? Is it dead or dormant, or is it vibrant with the glorious realization of harmony with the risen Savior? Examine your conscience; you will find the answer.

You cannot find happiness here or hereafter without religion. You cannot be at heart indifferent to your Creator; you cannot deceive yourself that you can do without Him.

In the midst of life we walk in death; no man knows the day or the hour, but none can gainsay that he cares.

You are entitled to the comfort, the inspiration, the salvation of religion. Aye, you need it for the daily problems of life, and you need it even more for the important hour of your death.

Accept the grace that God offers you through His Church.

Go to church on Easter.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

About the only thing left in Pennsylvania that is free nowadays is the air, but here is yet some consolation to be had. Governor Pinchot's dry bill failed to provide for the use of the sto such pump on suspected bootleggers.

The little town of Coalport is in dire straits these days, with the town chief of police "in the toils" for violating the speed law and the justice of the peace of the village also under arrest on a criminal charge.

French occupation of the Ruhr valley of Germany is generally condoned or accepted as "punishment fitting the crime" by us Americans because of the action of the Germans under Bismarck's crafty direction following the victory of the Prussians in the war of 1870. There is another side to the story. Here is how one German tells it:

Defenders of French action in the Ruhr harp on the assumption that had the tables been turned, Germany would have done as much or worse to France. They all cite the Franco-Prussian war.

Has it ever occurred to them to read history prior to 1870?

The first Napoleon ground Germany under his heel so ruthlessly that when chance offered the Germans rose en masse, with results registered first at Leipzig and later at Waterloo. The German militarism of later years can thank France under Napoleon for its existence.

Long before the days of Napoleon, it was not an uncommon occurrence for French kings to invade and ravage part of Germany. Louis XIV, the "Grand Monarque," ravaged the Palatinate—the Southern Rhine section—driving peaceful inhabitants out of their homes. A great many descendants of these German Palatines who were driven out are now living in the Mohawk Valley in New York state; Gail Herkimer of Revolutionary fame was of this stock.

We are told "France has been invaded twice within recent years." Yes, but Germany had been invaded more than twice before that by the French.

A more thorough study of history on the part of the public would change or at least temper the viewpoint of blind partisanship.

All Europeans are tarred with the same stick. They all love military power and glory and the moment one nation gets stronger than the other it goes out looking for conquest. It has been so for thousands of years and will doubtless always be so. The French, when they have the chance, do the same thing the Germans would. This is borne out by history.

In the probable action or attitude of Judge Singleton Bell. Ten years ago Judge Bell said one term was enough but that was ten years ago, and conditions are different now, and, like Barkis, he is reported to be willing now to change his mind and is ready to toss in his Kelly, when any other Democrat does. Ten years ago the Judge was elected under the non-partisan law, but since that time this law has been repealed and each party will name a candidate of its own, although some political wiseacres contend that nominating petitions will be taken out for Judge Bell by representatives of both parties and he will be a candidate for the nomination on both tickets.

James A. Gleason, Esq., of DuBois, is said to be considering making the race, while another distinguished citizen of the third class city, W. C. Pentz, Esq., one of the older members of the Bar and a representative of a pioneer Democratic family, it is said will undoubtedly be on the firing line when primary day arrives. W. A. Hagerty, Esq., one of Clearfield's old time and best known lawyers is also said to be in a receptive mood and with his knowledge of the politics of the county, may make them all stop some if he finally decides to get into the race. Another Clearfield possibility, who is said to be listening to the buzz, buzz, buzz, is William Wallace Smith, Esq., son of the late ex-Judge Allison G. Smith, one of the successful younger members of the Bar, who, his friends say, could be induced to make the race if conditions are right.

Prothonotary Candidates Scarce For Prothonotary, George W. Ralston, the present capable official, is a candidate for renomination and will likely be unopposed at the primary. The battle for this position promises to be similar to that of four years ago, as "Squire John Scollins," of Houtzdale, will likely be the Democratic candidate.

Register and Recorder Plentiful For Register and Recorder it is said the present competent officer Ed. B. Chase is being urged by his friends to make the race. His determination will depend upon what A. R. Chase finally decides to do in the Judgeship contest. Arthur Weber, of DuBois, and W. H. Nupp, of Sandy township, are said to be candidates for this position on the Republican ticket, while Chester Milberg, of Glen Richey, who made the race four years ago, and E. V. Brown, of Clearfield, are said to be thinking of trying it a whirl.

Lots of County Commissioners The office of County Commissioner is much better now from a salary standpoint than it was four years ago and by the same token it is only reasonable to suppose we'll get correspondingly better timber for the job. The administration of the affairs of the County Commissioners' office is a business proposition of large magnitude and broad-gauge, capable business men should be nominated on both tickets.

Gangway, Please The candidates ready to make their announcements when some fellow starts it are:

Republicans—Jesse E. Dale and T. R. Weimer, of DuBois, present incumbents; Charles S. Strong of Anconville; Ira Matthews, of Irvona; John G. Maines, of Bradford township; Joseph E. Phillips, of Clearfield. In addition to these some ten or a dozen more are just waiting for some one to start something.

Democrats—M. L. Farrell, of Clearfield, present incumbent; W. D. Little, of West Decatur; J. K. Wrigley, of Curwensville; Harrison Staw, of Joshua township; Bernard Rice, of DuBois; T. A. Bauman, of Woodward township, with ten or a dozen more self-sacrificing patriots ready to be pushed into the fray.

County Controller For the office of County Controller, the present incumbent, Grant H. Thompson is a candidate for re-election, while ex-Prothonotary John H. Moore is also mentioned for the place.

Democrats—There for James A. McPherson, the Lawrence township farmer and lumberman, is the one Democrat giving the controllership serious consideration.

But just wait until May court and see the awful crop of candidates for all the offices blossoms forth. The primary will be held Tuesday, Sept. 18th. We'll have a whole lot to say on the subject of men, measures and the offices to be filled between now and Sept. 18th. Watch for it.

BROTHER OF KING GIRL DEMANDED JOB OF DAUGHTERY

New York, March 31.—Renewing his examination of the relatives of Dorothy Keenan, slain omdel, Assistant District Attorney Pecora announced that Francis Keenan, her brother, had admitted he was the man who telephoned Draper M. Daugherty, son of Attorney General Daugherty, after the girl's death and asked him to make good a promise to get him a job in the United States Department of Justice.

Shortly after the examination began Mr. Pecora announced he would re-examine J. Kearney Mitchell, of Philadelphia, a wealthy admirer of the girl, and John Jackson, confidential counsel to Mitchell, today.

The detailed examination of the Keenans and the announcement of the re-examination of Mitchell and Jackson are taken as a possible indication that the district attorney's office has accepted the theory that the girl was slain after she had refused to assist in blackmailing her "angel."

WARD CASE FINALLY COMES TO LIGHT; HEARING MONDAY

Albany, N. Y., March 31.—An investigation into the killing of Clarence Peters by Walter B. Ward will begin in the office of District Attorney Sherr, Monday, it was announced today.

This will be the first action taken since Ward, son of a New York baker was released in Supreme Court on a charge of murder.

LUTHERSBURG MAN DIES OF WOUNDS; SHOT BY ACCIDENT

Russel Weisgarber, aged 26, a son of Henry Weisgarber, of near Luthersburg, died last night, as the result of injuries accidentally inflicted upon himself, death resulting within a short time after the accident. A doctor was summoned from DuBois but before he arrived the young man had died. Owing to the fact that relatives who were called to the scene from DuBois shortly after the shooting, had not returned at an early hour this morning details of the accident could not be obtained.

All National Prohibition Agents To Work Under New Pennsylvania Law

Washington, D. C., March 31.—Sweeping reorganization of Prohibition Department, centralizing of important functions in Federal hands was announced by the Federal Prohibition Department here today.

Effective April 1st, all prohibition agents of New York and Pennsylvania and all state dry directors of the two states will be turned over to the general federal force under direction of Yellowley, chief of agents here.

Local enforcement will be entirely in the hands of local agents, working under state dry laws as existing in the state.

MIDVALE STEEL IS NOW CONTROLLED BY BETHLEHEM

New York, March 30.—The Bethlehem Steel corporation today took possession of the property and assets of the Midvale Steel & Ordnance company. Announcement to this effect was made by officials of the Bethlehem company after a meeting of representatives of firms involved, in which all matters necessary for the consummation of the merging of the Midvale and Cambria companies were completed.

The Midvale and Cambria properties were purchased by the Bethlehem corporation for $95,000,000 worth of common stock of the Bethlehem Steel corporation. The purchase included the Midvale company, less the Nicetown plant, and a controlling interest in the Cambria Steel company owned by the Midvale company.

The Nicetown plant of the Midvale Steel & Ordnance company has been acquired by a Delaware corporation, to be known as the Midvale company, which will commence business at once. The capital will be 200,000 shares of no par value.

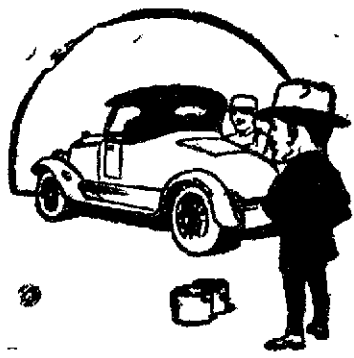

EVIDENCE AGAINST WAR CONTRACTS BURNED AT CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., March 31.—Contract records of war contracts in connection with Federal investigation of alleged war frauds, and progress were destroyed in a fire today which burned two buildings at the Bolling Field Air Station. Evidence contained in these records will be impossible to duplicate, officials stated.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS ON BARE KNEE

David W. Young, a former Clearfielder, who has been a resident of Glen Richey for the past thirty-two years, was in Clearfield yesterday on a shopping trip, and while out he found time enough to visit a little with old friends.

On April 1, 1898, Dave entered the employ of Rembrandt Peels as blacksmith at his mines in Glen Richey and tomorrow will round out forty-five years of service in that capacity, a record few men can boast of.

These fellows who advocate high power beer and then wail about the dangers of near-beer make us laugh. And our mouths are sore either.

Frankly we dislike to discuss prohibition enforcement so much in The Progress but as long as these guys whimper they'll have to be panked.

We cannot help but think that tomorrow will be a great deal happier day in America by reason of prohibition. In not one home in five hundred will "dad" be drunk all day as was the case ten years ago. In some cases dad may imbibe a little home brew but his weekly earnings will be transformed into colored eggs and chocolate bunnies instead of being contained in the barkeep's cash register. The average dad is just a little better kind of a fellow these days anyhow. With liquor dad became a beast or a fool.

Faint heart never won a fair lady, nor the judgeship either. So believes Hazard A. Murray so he gave his old hat a flip in the air and it landed squarely in the middle of the ring.

Can it be called a "hazardous" undertaking? Time alone will tell. At any rate, here is a fellow who isn't afraid of his shadow and is undaunted by his name.

Joking aside, Mr. Murray will be a real contender. His friends have been active for months and the campaign is pretty well under way.

What is your conception of a proper observance of Easter Day? Both spiritual and temporal law declare it a holiday, but is it? Surely not in the sense that it should be given over to the ordinary pastimes of holidays with a divertissement of amusements and attractions which attract our thoughts away from the true object.

It is a holy day but not in the sense that the day must be wholly given over to performing the work of the church and the sacrifices all true Christians are called upon to make.

It is both a holiday and a holy day. Can we reconcile the two? We believe we can.

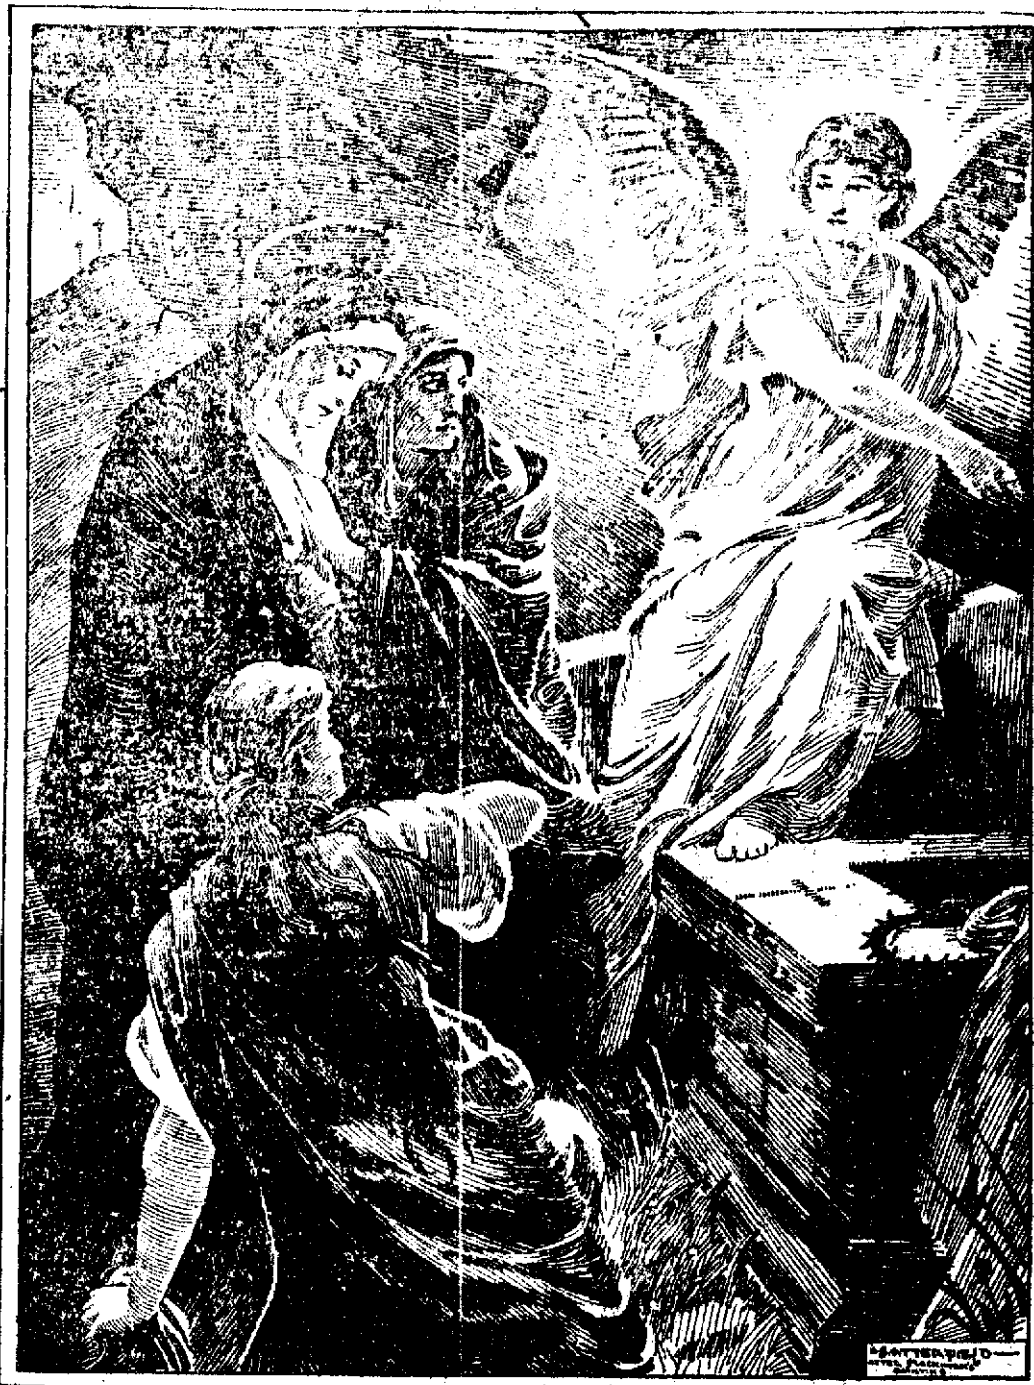

It is a holiday in the sense that it is the anniversary of the greatest event in the history of the world, excepting only Christ's birthday. It is, therefore, surely a day for great joy, for gladness for thanksgiving.

There should be no great difficulty in being joyful, glad and thankful and yet keeping the day holy.

How we observe the day will show very largely what we consider joy. If we can appreciate the promise of everlasting life and the mercies of a merciful God our observance of the day will be in a manner pleasing to Him.

Men turn to worldly amusements, pastimes and practices on holy days only when they do not know their God.

THE FIRST EASTER

IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And she answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said.

Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall see me.—St. Matthew, XXVIII:1-10.

BALL PLAYERS MAKE DEMAND FOR PLACE ON COMMISSION

Chicago, March 30.—Major league baseball players, through their union, have demanded representation on the National Commission, the chief ruling board of the game.

The demand is a new compromise of Judge Landis, National Commissioner, Dan Johnson, President of the National League, and John Heyden, President of the National Association, the formal demand for representation of players in the Commission coming just before the opening of the 1923 season was in the form of a "resolution" adopted by the National Ball Players Association. It was forwarded to the National Commission today by Raymond John Cannon, Milwaukee Attorney and organizer of the union.

QUARTER OF MILLION FIRE LOSS TODAY AT PITTSBURGH

Three alarms were sounded and scores of fire companies from all parts of the city were called to fight the fire which started in a wagon and automobile shop, owned by Schnabel & Sons.

Fanned by brisk winds and fed by kerosene oil, paint and other inflammable materials the fire destroyed the Schnabel Building and spread rapidly to adjoining business houses.

Word was received here today of the death of John P. Cleary of Philadelphia, father-in-law of Frank Short. Mr. Cleary, a well known real estate operator and contractor, had just returned from the South and it is believed that the sudden change contributed to his illness and subsequent death.

NEW ICE CREAM LAW IS NOW IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT

Harrisburg, Pa., March 30.—The new Ice Cream Law, approved by Gov. Pinchot on March 20, went into full force and effect on the date of its approval. It strengthens and improves the law that it replaces and will insure for the people of Pennsylvania a higher quality of ice cream.

The purpose of the law is to prevent the use of coconut fat and other foreign fats and oils in the manufacture of ice cream. It also prohibits the use of paraffin in chocolate-coated ice cream and bans the use of other substances injurious to health.

The legalized use of the buff tragacanth in ice cream making is eliminated in the new measure and the use of any imitation or substitute for ice cream under any coined or trade name is also prohibited.

It is further declared unlawful to offer ice cream for sale from any cabinet or container which contains any article other than ice cream, as for instance, oysters or fish.

In brief the present law prohibits the use of all chemicals and doubtful substances that can prove injurious to the well-being of the consumer. Cream and its products will henceforth be the principal ingredients used in the manufacture of ice cream.

This law has been vigorously advocated by the ice cream manufacturers of Pennsylvania who are as anxious to inject strict cleanliness and wholesomeness into the ice cream industry as is the State Department of Agriculture. Secretary Frank P. Villits has appealed to every member of the industry to co-operate with the Bureau of Foods in carrying the provisions of the new law into effect with the least possible delay and difficulty.

One of the laws will be forwarded to field agents of the food bureau and other interested persons as soon as a printed supply is available.

Berlin, March 30.—Eleven persons including four Germans were killed today in a crash of train operated by French engineers in the Rhenish.

SOVIET CONTINUES TO DISREGARD ALL PLEAS FOR PRIEST

Moscow, March 31.—The Russian Government has turned a deaf ear to all pleas for clemency for Vicar General Bukovich, sentenced to die for treason and resistance to the Soviet system.

The official decree is that his crime is absolutely unpardonable because he assured Poland of his loyalty while a subject of Russia. This constitutes him a traitor in the Government's eyes. Furthermore it is stated he was stated he was in communication with Poland arranging plans for a counter attack and was selling nationalized church property to Poland.

Vicar General Bukovich was found guilty of treason together with Arch Bishop Zepliak. The latter's death sentence was commuted to ten years imprisonment.

SUSPECT TROUBLE IN ARKANSAS WHEN BRIDGE IS BURNED

Cotton Plant, Arkansas, March 31.—Traffic was delayed on the Missouri and North Arkansas Railroad following a fire which destroyed a bridge spanning Lasitar Creek near here last night. Local authorities and railroad officials are unable to establish the origin of the fire.

Recent disorders along the road culminating in the hanging of E. C. Gregor on January 16th, has been under investigation by an official committee of the Arkansas Legislature. The report of this committee is still pending before Governor McRae.

LESSON FOR APRIL 1

THE WALK TO EMMAUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 24:13-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here but is risen.—Luke 24:6-7.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matthew 28:1-10; Acts 2:22-26; 1 Corinthians 15:3-20; Colossians 3:1-4.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Walk With Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus as a Companion.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Life With the Risen Lord.

I. The Walk of Two Discouraged Disciples (vv. 13-15).

Emmaus was seven and one-half miles northwest of Jerusalem. Just why they were walking this way we do not surely know. Perhaps their home was there, or they were merely walking to seek relief from their stunning sorrow. If they had believed what Jesus told them about His death and resurrection they would have escaped this great disappointment. Unbelief causes many heartaches and disappointments. One of these disciples was Cleopas, but the other is unknown. The topic of conversation was the tragedy of the cross and the resurrection rumors. So little had His teaching about His resurrection impressed them that the reports which the women brought were as idle tales to them. If they had believed what He said about coming forth from the grave they would have been expecting to hear just such reports as were being circulated.

II. The Unrecognized Companion (vv. 16-24).

1. Who He Was. Jesus. While they reasoned together on the wonderful events of the last few days on this journey, Jesus joined them. Even with His questioned them concerning their sadness they did not recognize Him. Many times we are so taken up with our sorrows and disappointments that we do not recognize Jesus though walking by our side. How grieved He must be to be unrecognized as He walks by us in our sorrows and trials.

2. His Question (v. 17). Perceiving their sadness and perplexity He sought to help them by calling forth a statement of their grief. This question surprised them and caused them to infer that He was a stranger in Jerusalem. The condemnation and crucifixion of the great prophet of Nazareth were so recent and notorious that no one they thought, who had lived in Jerusalem, could be ignorant of them. One valuable aspect of the unbelief of the disciples was that it revealed the fact that they were not credulous enthusiasts but hard to convince. Out of this incredulity developed the unshaken faith in the word of the resurrection.

III. The Scriptures Opened (vv. 25-35).

1. His Rebuke (v. 25). He did not rebuke them for not believing the strange stories they had heard, but for ignorance and lack of confidence in the Old Testament Scriptures. They had accepted only such parts of the Old Testament as suited their notions. Men and women who do not believe all that the Scriptures say, especially about the work of the blessed Savior, are entirely blameworthy. The very center and heart of the Old Testament Scriptures is the death and resurrection of Christ. It is ignorance of the Scriptures and unbelief of the wonderful and complete redemption wrought by Christ that robs us of many joys, power and efficiency as workers for Christ. Christ will be the teacher of all who will open their hearts unto Him.

2. Jesus Recognized (v. 31). While sitting at meat with the disciples their eyes were opened as they saw Him bless the bread and distribute it to them. We, too, can see the Lord on such common occasions as eating a meal if we have open eyes. Indeed we ought to see Him when eating, selling, buying and in our recreations for He has promised us His presence.

IV. The Effect Upon the Disciples (vv. 32-35). They were so filled with joy over this revelation of the Savior that they hastened back to Jerusalem to tell the other disciples of the word of His resurrection. Those who have had the Scriptures opened to them touching the death and resurrection of Christ cannot help but hasten to make it known to others.

Conscience in Speaking.

Every man should study conscience in speaking; it is a sign of ignorance not to know that long speeches, though they may please the speaker, are the torture of the hearer.—Felt-ham.

Like Old Watches.

Persons extremely reserved are like old enameled watches, which had painted covers that hindered your seeing what o'clock it was.—Walpole.

The Secret.

What is mine, even to my life, is hers I love; but the secret of my friend is not mine.—Sir P. Sidney.

The Quarrel.

Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but, being in, bear it that the opponent may beware of thee.—Shakespeare.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In memory of Mrs. John C. Smith of Goshen M. E. Sunday School. Whereas: Our loving Heavenly Father has removed from our midst our beloved sister and neighbor, Mrs. John C. Smith, be it

Resolved: That in the death of Mrs. Smith this community has lost a loyal, God-fearing citizen. She was ever following in the Master's footsteps and helping others along the way.

Resolved: That Goshen Sunday School and Church have lost a faithful, steadfast worker; the family a devoted wife and mother. Having rendered a long life of loving service in the Master's vineyard we can but say in the Master's own words, "Well done. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Resolved: That we extend our kindest sympathy to the sorrowing family and that we bow in humble submission to the divine will of Him who doeth all things well; realizing that our earthly loss is her heavenly gain.

Resolved: These resolutions be presented to the family of the departed sister that they be spread on the minutes of our Sunday School and be published in a county paper.

ONE-QUARTER MILLION IDLE

Director National Americanism Commission of Legion Cities Condition in United States.

More than a quarter of a million workmen are unemployed in the United States, according to a recent survey conducted by Garland W. Powell, director of the national Americanism commission of the American Legion.

Mr. Powell states that his unemployment figures were based on questionnaires addressed to all state chambers of commerce and to state officials of the Legion.

"The results of this census directly refutes many arguments in favor of lowering the bars against alien immigration this year," said Powell. "There is an organized movement afoot among certain employing interests to repeal the present 1 per cent act for limiting immigration, on the plea of a scarcity of labor. The American Legion wants to bring the true condition of affairs before the country. We are not isolationists, but we do not feel that the true business interests of the country will be forwarded by bringing in all the cheap foreign labor that Europe can supply. We want to see American industries manned by American labor at a living wage."

Powell declared that he could bring forward statistics to prove that in the coal industry alone, three miners were struggling to make a living on work enough for just two.

"The American Legion is pro-American," said Powell. "We are absolutely neutral in economic disputes, because our membership is made up from all sorts of occupations, employers and laborers alike. But we feel it our duty to warn the American people that the population of this country is already one-third foreign by birth or extraction. Unrestricted immigration would Europeanize this country in five years more. That is a condition we do not desire."

INTERESTED IN WORLD PEACE

H. Nelson Jackson of Huntington, Vt., is one of the prominent American Legion representatives in its relations with veterans of other countries. Mr. Jackson is vice president of the International Veterans' association, composed of societies of ex-fighters in eight allied countries.

Recently, Mr. Jackson, with other Legion representatives, submitted to President Harding a program leading toward world peace, recommended by the international veterans organization at its last convention held in New Orleans.

Born in the Kingdom, Mr. Jackson was graduated from the public school and the University of Vermont. Following his graduation he entered the practice of medicine in Burlington. In 1900, falling health caused his retirement from professional activities and he entered in a series of extensive travel in continental Europe. Continuing in his quest of health, Mr. Jackson took up motorcycling in 1903 when the automobile was in its early stages of development. He was the first man to accomplish the difficult trip across the American continent by automobile, making the journey in 63 days. Afterward he went to Mexico.

From the beginning of the World War, his interest was on the side of the Allies. When Theodore Roosevelt offered to raise a volunteer division and to lead it against the Germans, Doctor Jackson, on Colonel Roosevelt's personal request, guaranteed a regiment of cavalry from Vermont. On America's entrance into the war, Doctor Jackson was refused enlistment for active combat service on account of his age. Volunteering thereafter in the medical corps, he was commissioned a first lieutenant. He reached the front line trenches a major in 1918, and was wounded three times in the capture of Mont Faucon. For his heroism on the field of battle, he received the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre, and the decoration of Cavalier of the Legion of Honor.

A leader in American Legion affairs in Vermont, Doctor Jackson obtained national distinction among ex-service men, and served the Legion as a national vice commander in 1921-1922.

K. C. PROVIDES $50,000 FUND

Organization Turns Over Large Sum to Legion to Aid Tubercular Veterans in Southwest.

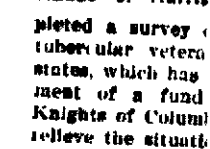

Tubercular ex-service men are flocking by the thousands to the states of the Southwest, where they hope to find the promised land of convalescence, according to Claude J. Harris, director of the American Legion's national service division.

Mr. Harris, with William J. McGinley, supreme secretary of the Knights of Columbus, has completed a survey of conditions among tubercular veterans in a number of states, which has resulted in the allotment of a fund of $50,000 by the Knights of Columbus to the Legion to relieve the situation.

"Our survey showed that the former fighters, who are migrating to Colorado, California and other states, are oftentimes in destitute circumstances," Mr. Harris stated. "In many instances they have brought their families with them. Legion posts and charitable organizations are at an attempt to provide for the veterans, but their number has increased to such an extent that these organizations are unable to care for a large percentage of veterans."

The Legion will administer the fund authorized by the Knights of Columbus in the communities where the problems in the Southwest, according to Mr. Harris, who stated that the fund will relieve many ex-fighters who have developed tuberculosis since the war. A great many of the men are ineligible for compensation from the United States Veterans' bureau because their disability developed at a period later than two years from time of discharge, the bureau's time limit of compensation in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis.

OPEN LETTER

George E. Zerfoss, Student of School's Character, Pa.

Dear Mr. Zerfoss:

A mutual friend called "Broken Chains" will soon play in your city. It is a play about an unknown author who the city won a prize of $10,000.

But you think that should be an inspiration to all students of English in the task.

The student who writes with a fine penmanship and a fine imagination is a true writer.

Unknown authors always long to be recognized by the city that they work brought to the attention of possible publishers.

We are sponsoring another contest in connection with the showing of "Broken Chains." If you will sponsor it among your pupils appoint a committee to pick the three best scenarios (which should not be over 500 words) and either send them to me or to your local theatre if I am not in the city during the competition, which I will endeavor to do in receipt of a favorable reply. I will also endeavor to have your local theatre man offer additional cash prizes for your efforts.

I will then forward the scenarios to our editorial department of the student will know that the work is practically being considered and actually have a chance to be produced.

And, of course, as a reward for our editors who are able to use will be paid for at regular rates, which will be a financial reward for the student so successful, although the real reward is the inspiration to creative effort which this contest should provide.

May I have your early reply, please.

"The First Degree"

From the Saturday Evening Post story "THE SUMMONS" by George Pattullo

"You Are Guilty!"

"You have besmirched my good name—lost me my love, my friends. BUT NOW—you will pay and pay dearly!"

Will revenge rob this man of his chances for future happiness—or will he be strong and grasp the opportunity of future years? A problem that enters the life of all of us. Don't miss the answer to it!

DRIGGS THEATRE TONIGHT

"SHE HAD THE GIMMES!"

Every time there was a bill to pay it was like pulling teeth. "Gimme!" was her favorite slogan. And then one day she decided that marriage was a 50-50 proposition and no wife need beg for "hand-outs" or "allowances." Oh yes, it's a novel idea! That's what makes this lively comedy the most entertaining film you ever saw. A wife can afford to miss it. And husbands would do well to miss the heartiest laughs of their married careers. It's wonderful!

ESSEY RIOT SCENE

Washington, D. C. March 31.—An Easter cold wave swept the entire eastern section of the country, the Weather Bureau reported. Unusually low temperatures for this season of the year were reported from many cities of the country and the Weather Bureau predicted it would continue cold throughout Easter Sunday. Snow was reported in many sections and frost in the southern states of Virginia and North and South Carolina.

St. John's, Newfoundland, March 31.—At least three persons lost their lives in a blizzard that has been sweeping this island for the past three days. It is believed many more deaths will be reported when outlying districts are heard from.

Three men were caught by the storm when chopping wood away from the homes and could not make their way through it. Their bodies were found at Three Harbors, sixty miles east of here.

No trains are running and no mail vessels have reached the island for several days.

Berlin, March 30.—Seven Germans were killed and twenty wounded when French troops at the Krupp Works near Essen turned machine guns on the workers, according to reports. The French were attempting to confiscate automobiles at the works and the workers resisted. The troops opened fire, raking ranks of the workers with machine gun bullets.

Lancaster, March 31.—Two are dead today as a result of a grade crossing collision eight miles north of here last night when an automobile bearing four Penn State students home for Easter vacation crashed into a passenger train.

Harry Erb, of Lititz, driver of the car was killed almost instantly and Elizabeth Reinhardt of Sunbury, died several hours later in a local hospital.

BIG SPLASH IN POLITICAL WATERS
WHEN FIRST JUDICIAL CANDIDATE
ANNOUNCES HE WILL MAKE A FIGHT

No Less Than One Hundred
County Citizens Are Getting
Ready to Contest For the
Principal Offices Soon.

THE DOPE AS WE GET IT

The candidates are now upon the wing. The campaign of 1923 which has been lingering like winter in the lap of Spring was cracked fairly wide open by the announcement this week of Hazard A. Murray, Esq., that he was a full fledged, bona fide, blown in the bottle, Simon-pure candidate for judicial honors in the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania which embraces or is made up of Clearfield county, and is now busily at work soliciting the suffrage of the proletariat, men in blouses, horny-handed sons of toil, business and professional men and women voters of the county.

Judgeship campaigns are—well so different from the average political campaign, possibly because they occur but once in ten years, that they are always looked forward to by the people of the county generally with more or less interest, while the "Captains of politics" in the different precincts just doze on them. They are usually chock full of action and sensation and the present one bids fair to easily equal any that has gone before.

There are said to be no less than eleven judicial bees buzzing in as many legal heads, but thus far the quiet tip to personal friends by Murray that he has decided to "give 'er a whirl" is the first concrete evidence that anyone of the ten had been stung into action. But this is just the start and political bees, when they open up in one spot, generally sting like the very old dickens himself, or until every last possessor of such bee simply has to horn in to the fray to save his peace of mind and satisfy his personal pride and ambitions.

As was to be expected in a county like ours, where there are more Republicans than Democrats, a manly, or six of these "bees" are of that "denomination," while five are of Democratic leanings or persuasion. That being so, for the purpose of this announcement, the Republicans should and will come first.

Murray Starts It
As we said the trouble was started by H. A. Murray tossing his hat into the ring. The other five in proper alphabetical order are District Attorney John C. Arnold, who would go higher in the service of the people. Harry Boulton, Esq., is said to be seriously considering a hop into the pond after the judicial toga while A. Roy Chase, Esq., believes he could satisfactorily administer the laws in Clearfield county and will have to be reckoned with. W. C. Miller, Esq., who led the Republican candidates ten years ago, is also said to be about ready to toe the scratch. County Solicitor A. H. Woodward is also trimming his sails in the direction of the judgeship. Every one of the prospective candidates possesses elements of considerable personal strength and if the entire galaxy line up for the starter's flag the campaign of 1923 will sure prove to be a hectic session.

Democrats Lethargic
There is nothing stirring thus far on the Democratic side of the fence, each of the five prospective candidates conforming to Democratic principles by adopting a policy of "watchful waiting." The chief buzz on this is the probable action or attitude of

CHILDREN TO SING
EASTER MUSIC ON
COURTHOUSE STEPS

Clearfield Will Be Given
New Treat Tomorrow
Morning Promptly at 9 o'clock On Glad Day.

ALL ARE INVITED

Clearfield people will be treated to an innovation Easter Sunday morning when the pupils of the various schools will gather at the court house corner and sing several Easter carols.

Miss Leighton, of Community Service and Mrs. Hopkins, musical director in the public schools, will have charge of the singing and have been drilling the children in their parts for some time.

In arranging the singers Sunday morning so that the school groups may find their places quickly, four large signs are ready and as the members of the various schools gather, they should go directly to their own group. The Junior High will occupy the upper court house steps, Market street school directly below them East End to the left and West Side to the right. All should be in place a minute before nine so the singing can begin on the dot, as some Sunday schools open at 9:15.

Following are the songs to be sung and those who expect to participate should cut this copy out of the paper and bring with them:—

CHRIST AROSE
Low in the grave he lay, Jesus, my Savior!
Waiting the coming day, Jesus, my Lord!

Chorus—
Up from the grave he arose,
With a mighty triumph o'er his foes;
He arose a victor from the dark domain,
And he lives forever with his saints to reign.

He arose! He arose! Hallelujah!
Christ arose!

Vainly they watched his bed,
Jesus, my Savior!
Vainly they sealed the dead,
Jesus, my Lord!

Chorus—

Death cannot keep his prey,
Jesus, my Savior!
He tore the bars away,
Jesus, my Lord!

Chorus—

CHRIST THE LORD IS RISEN AGAIN
Christ the Lord is risen again, Alleluiah!
Christ hath broken every chain, Alleluiah!
Hark, angelic voices cry, Alleluiah!
Singing ever more on high, Alleluiah!

He who bore all pain and loss, Alleluiah!
Comfortless upon the cross, Alleluiah!
Lives in glory now on high, Alleluiah!
Pleads for us and hears our cry, Alleluiah!

He who slumbered in the grave, Alleluiah!
Is exalted now to save, Alleluiah!

CAPPER RAPS THOSE

Senator From Kansas
Tells Wet Governor of
N. Y. His State Has Procured Fine Results.

NOT EXPERIMENT

Washington, March 30.—Sharp opposition to the New York Legislature's plea that the Volstead act be modified to permit the use of beer and light wine as beverages was expressed yesterday by Senator Capper, of Kansas.

He wrote to Governor Smith he would do everything he could to defeat such a proposal.

Representing a state which has been dry for more than forty years, Senator Capper declared prohibition did not of itself promote crime, but, on the other hand, benefited the citizenship of the country.

He told Governor Smith little help for a change in the law could be expected from members of Congress representing states which had long been made dry through their own Constitutions before the federal law was enacted.

The letter of Senator Capper closely follows one to Governor Smith from Senator-elect Fess, of Ohio. He also opposed any change in the law. The Kansas Senator wrote:

"It is not prohibition which increases crime, but the liquor dealers and those who patronize them. In the light of this fact any proposal which tends to increase or enlarge the privileges of the liquor dealers, instead of decreasing the problem of lawlessness will aggravate it."

"We have had prohibition in Kansas for more than forty years. To Kansas citizens prohibition is not an experiment; it is a tried and established institution. Our people have had an opportunity to observe the operation of prohibition closely and I am entirely conservative in saying that fully ninety-five per cent of them consider the prohibitory law one of the greatest blessings ever bestowed upon the state by legislation."

Indianapolis, Ind., March 31.—All but seven of the sixty-two residents of Gary, Indiana, on trial for alleged conspiracy to violate prohibition laws, were found guilty in the United States district court here today. The decision was reached after deliberating throughout the night.

The verdict marks a victory for the government in the greatest liquor fraud conspiracy case ever brought to trial since enactment of the prohibition amendment.

Sensational evidence was introduced in the trial in an effort to "shake down" alleged violations of the liquor laws by judges and high officials, including even the mayor of the city.

Now through Christendom it rings,
Alleluiah!
That the Lamb is king of kings, Alleluiah!

Now he bids us tell abroad, Alleluiah!
How the lost may be restored, Alleluiah!

How the penitent, forgiven, Alleluiah!
How we, too, may enter Heaven, Alleluiah!

SIXTY-FIVE MILLION Americans, professing membership in the churches or Sunday schools of the nation, will go to church services tomorrow—Easter Sunday.

This leaves forty-five millions unaccounted for.

Of these forty-five millions—just a little less than half the population of the country—comparatively few are agnostics or atheists. Most of them are people who through carelessness, or indifference, or diversion, have neglected the religious side of their nature.

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Christ from the sepulchre. It comes in the spring, when everywhere about us the spirit of resurrection is symbolized by nature. It should suggest to every one of us that this is the time for the resurrection of our spiritual natures.

The Christian church is the open door to realization of resurrection. It stands waiting to develop us spiritually. This would be a far better world to live in if all of us were attending church regularly.

Go to church on Easter. You'll feel a lot better if you do. Your soul needs food, too, you must know. Satisfy your spiritual hunger. Go to church on Easter.

By Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick
Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, New York
Go to church on Easter!

That is not the whole of Christianity—not by a long sea-mile! Being a Christian extends through seven days every week, twelve months a year, and it affects a man's whole life, from his secret thoughts to his business methods and his citizenship.

Because the finest elements in our American life came from the influence of Jesus Christ, and Easter is the festival of his victory. Because civilization's deepest need is the triumph of real Christianity and Easter is Christianity's rallying-day.

Because this is one of the most spiritually restless generations in human history, and the message of Easter—a victorious spiritual life which can conquer trouble, sin and death—is the message that modern men and women need.

Because you yourself have the old human needs for faith in God, inward power to carry on, and hope of life eternal, and Easter should have a personal message for you.

Go to church on Easter!

By Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs
Bishop of Catholic Diocese of Cleveland
"Christ is risen from the dead. Alleluiah!"

The Christian world rejoices. It steps out of Lenten season of penance and self-denial into new spiritual life of supernatural grace and joy.

Is YOUR soul attuned to the spirit of Easter? Is it dead or dormant, or is it vibrant with the glorious realization of harmony with the risen Savior? Examine your conscience; you will find the answer.

You cannot find happiness here or hereafter without religion. You cannot be at heart indifferent to your Creator; you cannot deceive yourself that you can do without Him.

In the midst of life we walk in death; no man knows the day or the hour, but none can gainsay that he cares.

You are entitled to the comfort, the inspiration, the salvation of religion. Aye, you need it for the daily problems of life, and you need it even more for the important hour of your death.

Accept the grace that God offers you through His Church.

Go to church on Easter.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

About the only thing left in Pennsylvania that is free nowadays is the air, but here is yet some consolation to be had. Governor Pinchot's dry bill failed to provide for the use of the sto such pump on suspected bootleggers.

The little town of Coalport is in dire straits these days, with the town chief of police "in the toils" for violating the speed law and the justice of the peace of the village also under arrest on a criminal charge.

French occupation of the Ruhr valley of Germany is generally condoned or accepted as "punishment fitting the crime" by us Americans because of the action of the Germans under Bismarck's crafty direction following the victory of the Prussians in the war of 1870. There is another side to the story. Here is how one German tells it:

Defenders of French action in the Ruhr harp on the assumption that, had the tables been turned, Germany would have done as much or worse to France. They all cite the Franco-Prussian war.

Has it ever occurred to them to read history prior to 1870?

The first Napoleon ground Germany under his heel so ruthlessly that when chance offered the Germans rose en masse, with results registered first at Leipzig and later at Waterloo. The German militarism of later years can thank France under Napoleon for its existence.

Long before the days of Napoleon, it was not an uncommon occurrence for French kings to invade and ravage part of Germany. Louis XIV, the "Grand Monarque," ravaged the Palatinate—the Southern Rhine section—driving peaceful inhabitants out of their homes. A great many descendants of these German Palatines who were driven out are now living in the Mohawk Valley in New York state; Gail Herkimer of Revolutionary fame was of this stock.

We are told "France has been invaded twice within recent years." Yes, but Germany had been invaded more than twice before that by the French.

A more thorough study of history on the part of the public would change or at least temper the viewpoint of blind partisanship.

All Europeans are tarred with the same stick. They all love military power and glory and the moment one nation gets stronger than the other it goes out looking for conquest. It has been so for thousands of years and will doubtless always be so. The French, when they have the chance, do the same thing the Germans would. This is borne out by history.

In the probable action or attitude of Judge Singleton Bell. Ten years ago Judge Bell said one term was enough but that was ten years ago, and conditions are different now, and, like Barkis, he is reported to be willing now to change his mind and is ready to toss in his Kelly, when any other Democrat does. Ten years ago the Judge was elected under the non-partisan law, but since that time this law has been repealed and each party will name a candidate of its own, although some political wiseacres contend that nominating petitions will be taken out for Judge Bell by representatives of both parties and he will be a candidate for the nomination on both tickets.

James A. Gleason, Esq., of DuBois, is said to be considering making the race, while another distinguished citizen of the third class city, W. C. Pentz, Esq., one of the older members of the Bar and a representative of a pioneer Democratic family, it is said will undoubtedly be on the firing line when primary day arrives. W. A. Hagerty, Esq., one of Clearfield's old time and best known lawyers is also said to be in a receptive mood and with his knowledge of the politics of the county, may make them all stop some if he finally decides to get into the race. Another Clearfield possibility, who is said to be listening to the buzz, buzz, buzz, is William Wallace Smith, Esq., son of the late ex-Judge Allison G. Smith, one of the successful younger members of the Bar, who, his friends say, could be induced to make the race if conditions are right.

Prothonotary Candidates Scarce For Prothonotary, George W. Ralston, the present capable official, is a candidate for renomination and will likely be unopposed at the primary. The battle for this position promises to be similar to that of four years ago, as "Squire John Scollins," of Houtzdale, will likely be the Democratic candidate.

Register and Recorder Plentiful For Register and Recorder it is said the present competent officer Ed. B. Chase is being urged by his friends to make the race. His determination will depend upon what A. R. Chase finally decides to do in the Judgeship contest. Arthur Weber, of DuBois, and W. H. Nupp, of Sandy township, are said to be candidates for this position on the Republican ticket, while Chester Milberg, of Glen Richey, who made the race four years ago, and E. V. Brown, of Clearfield, are said to be thinking of trying it a whirl.

Lots of County Commissioners The office of County Commissioner is much better now from a salary standpoint than it was four years ago and by the same token it is only reasonable to suppose we'll get correspondingly better timber for the job. The administration of the affairs of the County Commissioners' office is a business proposition of large magnitude and broad-gauge, capable business men should be nominated on both tickets.

Gangway, Please

The candidates ready to make their announcements when some fellow starts it are:

Republicans—Jesse E. Dale and T. R. Weimer, of DuBois, present incumbents; Charles S. Strong of Anconville; Ira Matthews, of Irwona; John G. Maines, of Bradford township; Joseph E. Phillips, of Clearfield. In addition to these some ten or a dozen more are just waiting for some one to start something.

Democrats—M. L. Farrell, of Clearfield, present incumbent; W. D. Little, of West Decatur; J. K. Wrigley, of Curwensville; Harrison Staw, of Joshua township; Bernard Rice, of DuBois; T. A. Bauman, of Woodward township, with ten or a dozen more self-sacrificing patriots ready to be pushed into the fray.

County Controller

For the office of County Controller, the present incumbent, Grant H. Thompson is a candidate for re-election, while ex-Prothonotary John H. Moore is also mentioned for the place.

Democrats—There for James A. McPherson, the Lawrence township farmer and lumberman, is the one Democrat giving the controllership serious consideration.

But just wait until May court and see the awful crop of candidates for all the offices blossoms forth. The primary will be held Tuesday, Sept. 18th. We'll have a whole lot to say on the subject of men, measures and the offices to be filled between now and Sept. 18th. Watch for it.

BROTHER OF KING GIRL DEMANDED JOB OF DAUGHTERTY

New York, March 31.—Renewing his examination of the relatives of Dorothy Keenan, slain omdel, Assistant District Attorney Pecora announced that Francis Keenan, her brother, had admitted he was the man who telephoned Draper M. Daugherty, son of Attorney General Daugherty, after the girl's death and asked him to make good a promise to get him a job in the United States Department of Justice.

Shortly after the examination began Mr. Pecora announced he would re-examine J. Kearney Mitchell, of Philadelphia, a wealthy admirer of the girl, and John Jackson, confidential counsel to Mitchell, today.

The detailed examination of the Keenans and the announcement of the re-examination of Mitchell and Jackson are taken as a possible indication that the district attorney's office has accepted the theory that the girl was slain after she had refused to assist in blackmailing her "angel."

David W. Young, a former Clearfielder, who has been a resident of Glen Richey for the past thirty-two years, was in Clearfield yesterday on a shopping trip, and while out here found time enough to visit a little with old friends.

These fellows who advocate high power beer and then wail about the dangers of near-beer make us laugh. And our mouths are sore either.

Frankly we dislike to discuss prohibition enforcement so much in The Progress but as long as these guys whimper they'll have to be panked.

We cannot help but think that tomorrow will be a great deal happier day in America by reason of prohibition. In not one home in five hundred will "dad" be drunk all day as was the case ten years ago. In some cases dad may imbibe a little home brew but his weekly earnings will be transformed into colored eggs and chocolate bunnies instead of being contained in the barkeep's cash register. The average dad is just a little better kind of a fellow these days anyhow. With liquor dad became a beast or a fool.

Faint heart never won a fair lady, nor the judgeship either. So believes Hazard A. Murray so he gave his old hat a flip in the air and it landed squarely in the middle of the ring.

Can it be called a "hazardous" undertaking? Time alone will tell. At any rate, here is a fellow who isn't afraid of his shadow and is undaunted by his name.

Joking aside, Mr. Murray will be a real contender. His friends have been active for months and the campaign is pretty well under way.

What is your conception of a proper observance of Easter Day? Both spiritual and temporal law declare it a holiday, but is it? Surely not in the sense that it should be given over to the ordinary pastimes of holidays with a divertissement of amusements and attractions which attract our thoughts away from the true object.

It is a holy day but not in the sense that the day must be wholly given over to performing the work of the church and the sacrifices all true Christians are called upon to make.

It is both a holiday and a holy day. Can we reconcile the two? We believe we can.

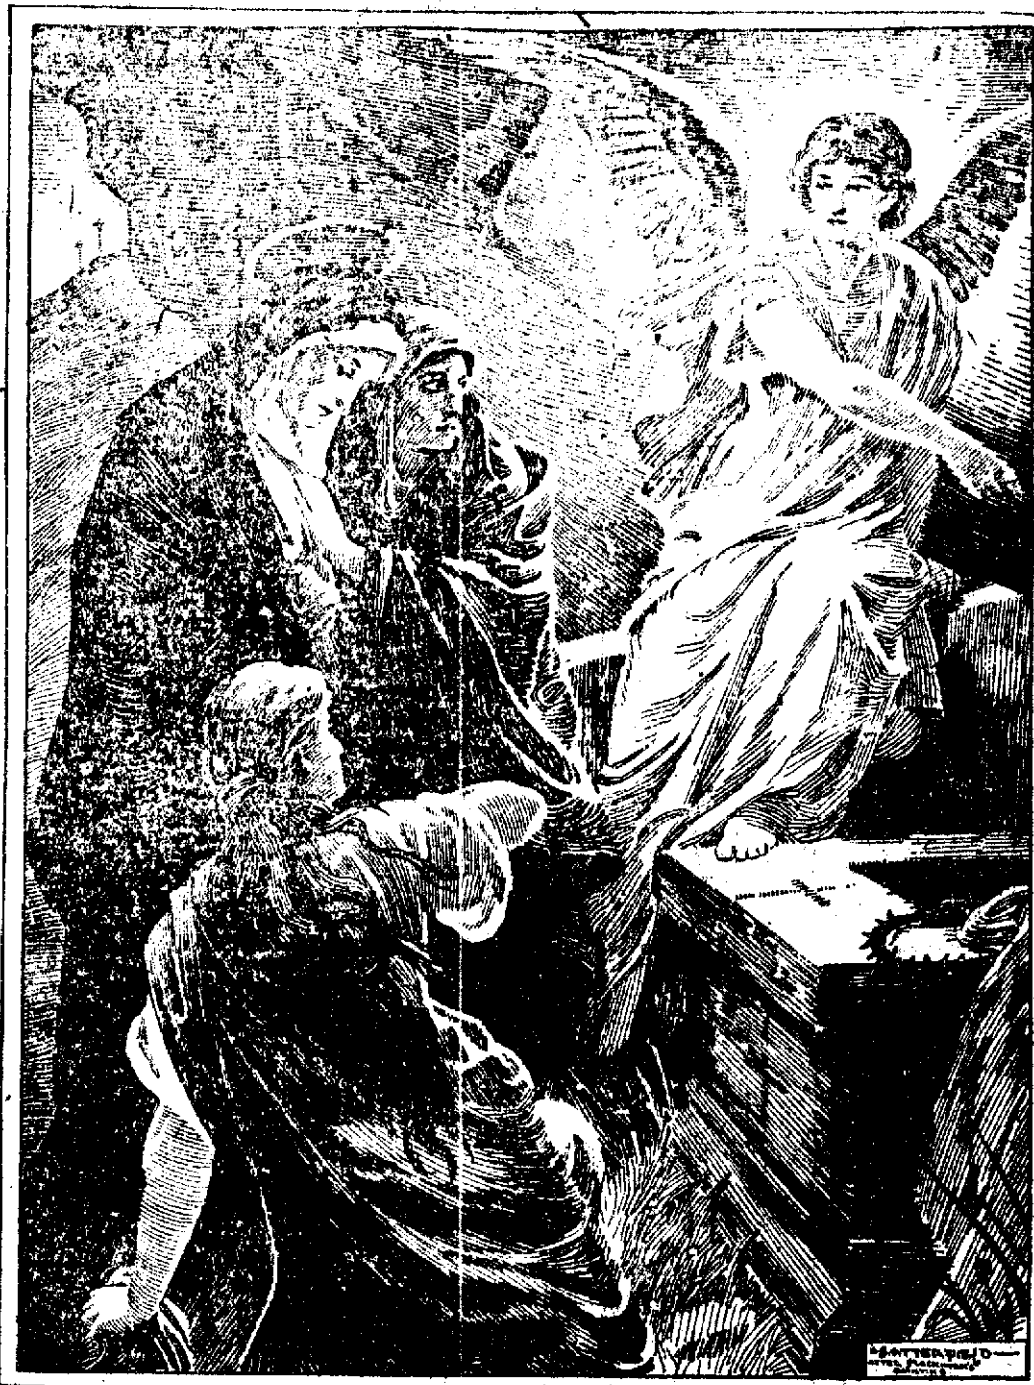

It is a holiday in the sense that it is the anniversary of the greatest event in the history of the world, excepting only Christ's birthday. It is, therefore, surely a day for great joy, for gladness, for thanksgiving.

There should be no great difficulty in being joyful, glad and thankful and yet keeping the day holy.

How we observe the day will show very largely what we consider joy. If we can appreciate the promise of everlasting life and the mercies of a merciful God our observance of the day will be in a manner pleasing to Him.

Men turn to worldly amusements, pastimes and practices on holy days only when they do not know their God.

THE FIRST EASTER

IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And she answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said.

Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall see me.—St. Matthew, XXVIII:1-10.

BALL PLAYERS MAKE DEMAND FOR PLACE ON COMMISSION

Chicago, March 30.—Major league baseball players, through their union, have demanded representation on the National Commission, the chief ruling board of the game.

The demand is a new compromise of Judge Landis, National Commissioner, Dan Johnson, President of the National League, and John Heyden, President of the National Association, coming just before the opening of the 1923 season was in the form of a "resolution" adopted by the National Ball Players Association. It was forwarded to the National Commission today by Raymond John Cannon, Milwaukee Attorney and organizer of the union.

QUARTER OF MILLION FIRE LOSS TODAY AT PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 31.—Fire today destroyed a block at 25th street and Penn Avenue, Lawrenceville, causing damage estimated at one quarter of a million dollars.

Three alarms were sounded and scores of fire companies from all parts of the city were called to fight the fire which started in a wagon and automobile shop, owned by Schnabel & Sons.

Fanned by brisk winds and fed by kerosene oil, paint and other inflammable materials the fire destroyed the Schnabel Building and spread rapidly to adjoining business houses.

Word was received here today of the death of John P. Cleary of Philadelphia, father-in-law of Frank Short. Mr. Cleary, a well known real estate operator and contractor, had just returned from the South and it is believed that the sudden change contributed to his illness and subsequent death.

NEW ICE CREAM LAW IS NOW IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT

Harrisburg, Pa., March 30.—The new Ice Cream Law, approved by Gov. Pinchot on March 20, went into full force and effect on the date of its approval. It strengthens and improves the law that it replaces and will insure for the people of Pennsylvania a higher quality of ice cream.

The purpose of the law is to prevent the use of coconut fat and other foreign fats and oils in the manufacture of ice cream. It also prohibits the use of paraffin in chocolate-coated ice cream and bans the use of other substances injurious to health.

The legalized use of the buff tragacanth in ice cream making is eliminated in the new measure and the use of any imitation or substitute for ice cream under any coined or trade name is also prohibited.

It is further declared unlawful to offer ice cream for sale from any cabinet or container which contains any article other than ice cream, as for instance, oysters or fish.

In brief the present law prohibits the use of all chemicals and doubtful substances that can prove injurious to the well-being of the consumer. Cream and its products will henceforth be the principal ingredients used in the manufacture of ice cream.

This law has been vigorously advocated by the ice cream manufacturers of Pennsylvania who are as anxious to inject strict cleanliness and wholesomeness into the ice cream industry as is the State Department of Agriculture. Secretary Frank P. Villits has appealed to every member of the industry to co-operate with the Bureau of Foods in carrying the provisions of the new law into effect with the least possible delay and difficulty.

One of the law will be forwarded to field agents of the food bureau and other interested persons as soon as a printed supply is available.

Berlin, March 30.—Eleven persons including four Germans were killed today in a crash of train operated by French engineers in the Rhenish.

SOVIET CONTINUES TO DISREGARD ALL PLEAS FOR PRIEST

Moscow, March 31.—The Russian Government has turned a deaf ear to all pleas for clemency for Vicar General Bukovich, sentenced to die for treason and resistance to the Soviet system.

The official decree is that his crime is absolutely unpardonable because he assured Poland of his loyalty while a subject of Russia. This constitutes him a traitor in the Government's eyes. Furthermore it is stated he was stated he was in communication with Poland arranging plans for a counter attack and was selling nationalized church property to Poland.

Vicar General Bukovich was found guilty of treason together with Arch Bishop Zepliak. The latter's death sentence was commuted to ten years imprisonment.

SUSPECT TROUBLE IN ARKANSAS WHEN BRIDGE IS BURNED

Cotton Plant, Arkansas, March 31.—Traffic was delayed on the Missouri and North Arkansas Railroad following a fire which destroyed a bridge spanning Lasitar Creek near here last night. Local authorities and railroad officials are unable to establish the origin of the fire.

Recent disorders along the road culminating in the hanging of E. C. Gregor on January 16th, has been under investigation by an official committee of the Arkansas Legislature. The report of this committee is still pending before Governor McRae.

LESSON FOR APRIL 1

THE WALK TO EMMAUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 24:13-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here but is risen.—Luke 24:6-7.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matthew 23:1-10; Acts 2:22-26; 1 Corinthians 15:3-20; Colossians 3:1-4.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Walk With Jesus.

UNION TOPIC—Jesus as a Companion.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Life With the Risen Lord.

I. The Walk of Two Discouraged Disciples (vv. 13-15).

Emmaus was seven and one-half miles northwest of Jerusalem. Just why they were walking this way we do not surely know. Perhaps their home was there, or they were merely walking to seek relief from their stunning sorrow. If they had believed what Jesus told them about His death and resurrection they would have escaped this great disappointment. Unbelief causes many heartaches and disappointments. One of these disciples was Cleopas, but the other is unknown. The topic of conversation was the tragedy of the cross and the resurrection rumors. So little had His teaching about His resurrection impressed them that the reports which the women brought were as idle tales to them. If they had believed what He said about coming forth from the grave they would have been expecting to hear just such reports as were being circulated.

II. The Unrecognized Companion (vv. 16-24).

1. Who He Was, Jesus. While they reasoned together on the wonderful events of the last few days on this journey, Jesus joined them. Even when He questioned them concerning their sadness they did not recognize Him. Many times we are so taken up with our sorrows and disappointments that we do not recognize Jesus though walking by our side. How grieved He must be to be unrecognized as He walks by us in our sorrows and trials.

2. His Question (v. 17). Perceiving their sadness and perplexity He sought to help them by calling forth a statement of their grief. This question surprised them and caused them to infer that He was a stranger in Jerusalem. The condemnation and crucifixion of the great prophet of Nazareth were so recent and notorious that no one they thought, who had lived in Jerusalem, could be ignorant of them. One valuable aspect of the unbelief of the disciples was that it revealed the fact that they were not credulous enthusiasts but hard to convince. Out of this incredulity developed the unshaken faith in the word of the resurrection.

III. The Scriptures Opened (vv. 25-35).

1. His Rebuke (v. 27). He did not rebuke them for not believing the strange stories they had heard, but for ignorance and lack of confidence in the Old Testament Scriptures. They had accepted only such parts of the Old Testament as suited their notions. Men and women who do not believe all that the Scriptures say, especially about the work of the blessed Savior, are entirely blameworthy. The very center and heart of the Old Testament Scriptures is the death and resurrection of Christ. It is ignorance of the Scriptures and unbelief of the wonderful and complete redemption wrought by Christ that robs us of many joys, power and efficiency as workers for Christ. Christ will be the teacher of all who will open their hearts unto Him.

2. Jesus Recognized (v. 31). While sitting at meat with the disciples their eyes were opened as they saw Him bless the bread and distribute it to them. We, too, can see the Lord on such common occasions as eating a meal if we have open eyes. Indeed we ought to see Him when eating, selling, buying and in our recreations for He has promised us His presence.

IV. The Effect Upon the Disciples (vv. 32-35). They were so filled with joy over this revelation of the Savior that they hastened back to Jerusalem to tell the other disciples of the word of His resurrection. Those who have had the Scriptures opened to them touching the death and resurrection of Christ cannot help but hasten to make it known to others.

Conscience in Speaking.

Every man should study conscience in speaking; it is a sign of ignorance not to know that long speeches, though they may please the speaker, are the torture of the hearer.—Feltman.

Like Old Watches.

Persons extremely reserved are like old enameled watches, which had painted covers that hindered your seeing what o'clock it was.—Walpole.

The Secret.

What is mine, even to my life, is hers I love; but the secret of my friend is not mine.—Sir P. Sidney.

The Quarrel.

Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but, being in, bear it that the opponent may beware of thee.—Shakespeare.

ONE-QUARTER MILLION IDLE

More than a quarter of a million workmen are unemployed in the United States, according to a recent survey conducted by Garland W. Powell, director of the national Americanism commission of the American Legion.

Mr. Powell states that his unemployment figures were based on questionnaires addressed to all state chambers of commerce and to state officials of the Legion.

"The results of this census directly refutes many arguments in favor of lowering the bars against alien immigration this year," said Powell. "There is an organized movement afoot among certain employing interests to repeal the present 1 per cent act for limiting immigration, on the plea of a scarcity of labor. The American Legion wants to bring the true condition of affairs before the country. We are not isolationists, but we do not feel that the true business interests of the country will be forwarded by bringing in all the cheap foreign labor that Europe can supply. We want to see American industries manned by American labor at a living wage."

Powell declared that he could bring forward statistics to prove that in the coal industry alone, three miners were struggling to make a living on work enough for just two.

"The American Legion is pro-American," said Powell. "We are absolutely neutral in economic disputes, because our membership is made up from all sorts of occupations, employers and laborers alike. But we feel it our duty to warn the American people that the population of this country is already one-third foreign by birth or extraction. Unrestricted immigration would Europeanize this country in five years more. That is a condition we do not desire."

TURN ME OVER

War chest funds collected for service men of the World War belong to the American Legion since it is the one all-inclusive veterans' organization, according to Gilbert R. Bettman, commander of the Ohio department of the Ohio Legion.

Acting on this belief, Mr. Bettman has instigated civil suits in an endeavor to obtain a court ruling granting the residue of war chest funds to the Legion.

His recent ruling of the Ohio Court of Appeals, awarding a fund of $115,000, collected during the war to supply comforts for the men of the Eighty-third division, to the Legion.

The court ruled that the Legion is the one representative organization of veterans of the World War and that comforts belonging to the men who served should come properly to them in their present organization. "As the G. A. R. is to the Civil War, so the American Legion is and will be the outstanding military organization representing the ex-soldiers of the World War," the opinion of the court stated.

Mr. Bettman has started a membership campaign in Ohio with a goal of 60,000 Legionnaires. Ohio posts will have exceptional inducements to beat the bushes for new members, since the war chest fund awarded by the Court of Appeals will be distributed among the posts on a basis of membership on July 1.

The Ohio Legion head was a warm personal friend of the late F. W. Galbraith, Jr., and is chairman of a Legion committee which will erect a $25,000 memorial to the former Legion leader on a cliff overlooking the Ohio river near Cincinnati.

Legion Chair to Be Endowed.
An American Legion chair of American history and patriotism is to be endowed at Pacific university, Forest Grove, Ore., for which purpose $50,000 now is being raised. Since the close of the war, Pacific university has been granting ex-service men free tuition as an inducement to acquire a college education. To aid its program, the Legion chair of patriotism was launched "to the end that the ideas and ideal of our forefathers may still abide; to the end that the heroic service and sacrifices of the Legion men be perpetuated in the lives of those who will enter the doors of Pacific university."

INTERESTED IN WORLD PEACE

H. Nelson Jackson, Vermont, One of Legion's Past Presidents, Program to President Harding.

H. Nelson Jackson of Huntington, Vt., is one of the prominent American Legion representatives in its relations with veterans of other countries. Mr. Jackson is vice president of the International Veterans' association, composed of societies of ex-fighters in eight allied countries.

Recently, Mr. Jackson, with other Legion representatives, submitted to President Harding a program leading toward world peace, recommended by the international veterans' organization at its last convention held in New Orleans.

Born in the Kingdom, Mr. Jackson was graduated from the public school and the University of Vermont. Following his graduation he entered the practice of medicine in Burlington. In 1900, failing health caused his retirement from professional activities and he entered in a series of extensive travel in continental Europe. Continuing in his quest of health, Mr. Jackson took up motorcycling in 1903 when the automobile was in its early stages of development. He was the first man to accomplish the difficult trip across the American continent by automobile, making the journey in 63 days. Afterward he went to Mexico.

From the beginning of the World War, his interest was on the side of the Allies. When Theodore Roosevelt offered to raise a volunteer division and to lead it against the Germans, Doctor Jackson, on Colonel Roosevelt's personal request, guaranteed a regiment of cavalry from Vermont. On America's entrance into the war, Doctor Jackson was refused enlistment for active combat service on account of his age. Volunteering thereafter in the medical corps, he was commissioned a first lieutenant. He reached the front two trenches a major in 1918, and was wounded three times in the capture of Mont Faron. For his heroism on the field of battle, he received the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre, and the decoration of Cavalier of the Legion of Honor.

A leader in American Legion affairs in Vermont, Doctor Jackson obtained national distinction among ex-service men, and served the Legion as a national vice commander in 1921-1922.

K. C. PROVIDES $50,000 FUND

Organization Turns Over Large Sum to Legion to Aid Tubercular Veterans in Southwest.

Tubercular ex-service men are flocking by the thousands to the states of the Southwest, where they hope to find the promised land of convalescence, according to Claude J. Harris, director of the American Legion's national service division.

Mr. Harris, with William J. McGinley, supreme secretary of the Knights of Columbus, has completed a survey of conditions among tubercular veterans in a number of states, which has resulted in the allotment of a fund of $50,000 by the Knights of Columbus to the Legion to relieve the situation.

"Our survey showed that the former fighters, who are migrating to Colorado, California and other states, are oftentimes in destitute circumstances," Mr. Harris stated. "In many instances they have brought their families with them. Legion posts and charitable organizations are attempting to provide for the veterans, but their number has increased to such an extent that these organizations are unable to care for a large percentage of veterans."

The Legion will administer the fund authorized by the Knights of Columbus in the communities where the problems in the Southwest, according to Mr. Harris, who stated that the fund will relieve many ex-fighters who have developed tuberculosis since the war. A great many of the men are ineligible for compensation from the United States Veterans' bureau because their disability developed at a period later than two years from time of discharge, the bureau's time limit of compensation in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis.

OPEN LETTER

George E. Zerfoss, Student of School's Clearfield, Pa.

Dear Mr. Zerfoss:

A mutual friend called "Broken Chains" will soon play in your city. It is a play about an unknown author who the city won a prize of $10,000.

But you think that should be an inspiration to all students of English in the task.

Unknown writers, almost long dead, are expected to be the authors of the work brought to the attention of possible publishers.

We are sponsoring another contest in connection with the showing of "Broken Chains." If you will sponsor it among your pupils, appoint a committee to pick the three best scenarios (which should not be over 500 words) and either send them to me or to your local theatre if I am not in the city during the competition, which I will endeavor to do in receipt of a favorable reply. I will also endeavor to have your local theatre man offer additional cash prizes for your efforts.

I will then forward the scenarios to our editorial department of the students will know that the work is practically being considered and actually have a chance to be produced.

And, of course, as a reward for our editors are able to use will be paid for at regular rates, which will be a financial reward for the student so successful, although the real reward is the inspiration to creative effort which this contest should provide.

May I have your early reply, Sincerely,

Look for a Muff.
A muff was used by a clever woman in a recent series of thefts in the shops in Paris. The thief was so sure that she carried it in her hand. Then while its mistress was standing at a distance from the counter, she slipped out a long, thin pin and stuck it into the muff. The thief then hid in a gallery above the shop and with the aid of a flashlight, she waited for the thief to enter. When the thief entered, she slipped the pin into the muff and the thief was caught.

We make no claim to being a weather prophet, but we know much of anything about the weather until after it is over, but unless we miss our guess the weather man is mixing a helluva lot of water with the spring he has supposed to have turned loose upon us during the past week. What think about it, He.

SHE HAD THE GIMMES!

Every time there was a bill to pay it was like pulling teeth. "Gimme!" was her favorite slogan. And then one day she decided to make a go of it. A 50-50 proposition and no wife need beg for "loan" or "allowance." Oh yes, it's a new story. That's what makes this lively comedy so interesting. A certain film you ever saw? A wife can afford to miss it. And husbands will want to miss the heartiest laughs of their married lives. It's wonderful!

INTERESTED IN WORLD PEACE

Mr. Nelson Jackson, Vermont, One of Legion Men Pressing Program to President Harding.

Mr. Nelson Jackson of Hingham, Me., is one of the prominent American Legion representatives in its relations with veterans' organizations of other countries. Mr. Jackson is vice president of the International Veterans' association, composed of societies of ex-fighters in eight allied countries.

Recently, Mr. Jackson, with other Legion representatives, submitted to President Harding a program leading toward world peace, recommended by the international veterans' organization at its last convention held in New Orleans.

Born in Burlington, Mr. Jackson was educated from the public schools and the University of Vermont. Following his graduation, he entered the practice of medicine in Burlington. In 1900, ailing health caused his retirement from professional activities, and he entered in a series of extensive travels in continental Europe. Continuing in his quest of health, Doctor Jackson took his morning in 1903, when the automobile was in its early stages of development. He was the first man to accomplish the difficult trip across the American continent by automobile, making the journey in 63 days. Afterward he went to Mexico.

From the beginning of the World War, his interest was on the side of the allies. When Theodore Roosevelt offered to raise a volunteer division and to lead it against the Germans, Doctor Jackson, on Colonel Roosevelt's personal request, guaranteed a regiment of cavalry from Vermont. On America's entrance into the war, Doctor Jackson was refused enlistment for active combat service on account of his age. Volunteering thereafter in the medical corps, he was commissioned a first lieutenant. He reached the front line trenches a major in 1918, and was wounded three times in the capture of Mont Fauton. For his heroism in the field of battle, he received the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre, and the decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

A leader in American Legion affairs in Vermont, Doctor Jackson obtained national distinction among ex-service men, and served the Legion as a national vice commander in 1921-1922.

K. C. PROVIDES $50,000 FUND

Organization Turns Over Large Sum to Legion to Aid Tubercular Veterans in Southwest.

Tubercular ex-service men are flocking by the thousands to the states of the Southwest, where they hope to find the promised land of convalescence, according to Claude J. Harris, director of the American Legion's national service division. Mr. Harris, with William J. McGinley, supreme secretary of the Knights of Columbus, has completed a survey of conditions among tubercular veterans in a number of states, which has resulted in the allotment of a fund of $50,000 by the Knights of Columbus to the Legion to relieve the situation.

"Our survey showed that the former fighters, who are migrating to Colorado, California and other states, are often times in destitute circumstances," Mr. Harris stated. "In many instances they have brought their families with them. Legion posts and charitable organizations are attempting to provide for the veterans, but their number has increased to such an extent that these organizations are unable to care for a large percentage of veterans."

The Legion will administer the fund authorized by the Knights of Columbus in the communities where the problem is the heaviest, according to Mr. Harris, who stated that the fund will give many ex-fighters who have developed tuberculosis since the war. A great many of these men are ineligible for compensation from the United States Veterans' bureau because their disability developed at a period later than two years from time of discharge, the bureau's time limit for compensation in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis.

GIRL, LEGION POST ADJUTANT

Wounded veterans in the hospitals of France learned to submit to the rule of the weak, or sex as represented by members of the army nurse corps. Members of the Shupe Machine Gun post at Cleveland are now headed by Miss H. C. Hilden, a former nurse, who has recently been elected post adjutant.

Miss Hilden has taken a great interest in the various activities of the post. She has been especially interested in the relief of disabled ex-service men and of other sick and needy veterans.

AN OPEN LETTER

Mr. George H. Zerfoss, Superintendent of Schools, Clearfield, Pa.

Dear Mr. Zerfoss:

A moving picture called "Broken Chains" will soon play in your city. It was written by an unknown author who thereby won a prize of Ten Thousand Dollars.

Don't you think this should be an inspiration to all students of English? The student who writes with a definite purpose is certainly interested in the task.

Unknown writers always long for the opportunity to have their work brought to the attention of possible publishers.

We are sponsoring another contest in connection with the showing of "Broken Chains." If you will sponsor it among your pupils, appoint a committee to pick the three best scenarios, (which should not be over 500 words) and either send them to me or to your local theatre if I am successful in securing their co-operation, which I will endeavor to do on receipt of your favorable reply. I will also endeavor to have your local theatre man offer additional cash prizes for your students.

I will then forward the scenarios to our editorial department of the students will know that their work is actually being considered and actually have a chance to be produced.

And, of course, any scenarios that our editors are able to use will be paid for at regular rates, which will be a financial reward for the student so successful, although the real reward is the inspiration to scholastic effort which this contest should provide.

May I have your early reply, Sir? Very truly,
WM. N. ROBERTSON,
P.O. Columbia Pictures 1201 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Monkey in a Muff.

A monkey was used by a clever woman thief to commit a series of thefts from jewelers' shops in Paris. The creature was so tiny that she carried it in a big muff. Then while its mistress was standing at such distance from the counter as disarmed suspicion, the monkey would thrust out a long, spidery arm and snatch and conceal a ring or brooch. It was a shop detective, hidden in a gallery above and watching with the aid of reflecting mirrors, who at last detected the trick.

Faith and Works.

Faith without works is like a bird without wings, though she may hop with her companions on earth, yet she will never fly with them to heaven; but when both are joined together, then doth the soul mount up to her eternal rest. — J. Beaumont.
